Our sincere condolences to the Taylor family on the sudden loss of Marie. A service to commemorate her life will be held at Allambie Park Albany Wednesday 14th at 1.30 pm. No flowers by request donations to the Albany Hospice would be appreciated.

Ongerup Playgroup

every Tuesday 9.30-11.30am Everyone Welcome!

By Kacie Guy

Hello dear readers it has been a while since I have written to you all. I am technically not allowed to use computers as I cannot yet write my name but I'm working on it. While I am shocked and a little disappointed that you have not sent me flowers, snacks (I get hungry often people) and many gifts. Where is the love everyone?? Did you all not know I have turned two! Yes I am practically fully grown. I have turned my back on my paint eating ways, gosh they were good old days! I can now put on my own shoes, open my lunchbox and say no.... a lot. At the rate I am growing I will most likely be able to drive by next year.

Today I arrived at Playgroup with an air of maturity, or it could have been the banana I had with my breakfast, it is hard to tell. I strode into Playgroup, waterbottle in one hand, my piece of fruit for morning tea in the other! I'm one of the big kids now you see, I am two, hear me roar. I can climb up the playground ladder, ride bikes and I actually paint with the paint onto paper and I double check things before I put them in my mouth, well mostly.....

Today we were crafting and instead of eating the paint, I actually painted with it, I know I know I have changed! There was a moment when mum freaked out when she turned and saw me painting my hand green but then realised I was doing hand prints on my art work not eating the paint. Although I did wipe my green hands all over my art shirt afterwards, but hey we all have things we can improve on. Today we made Christmas decorations and boy was it fun. All the glue, coloured paint, colourful rice, patty pans, dirt, sticks, flies and pom poms you can poke a stick at! Being a big girl, I of course very beautifully painted my bunting, while George and Charlie obliterated their bunting with way too many decorations. Their bunting does not stand a chance being held up by string, their mum will need to ring Australia Post to see if they make their string like they make their sticky tape, indestructable! Ooooh now getting back to the cats. We had two cats come to playgroup today. I love cats! So does April! Our mums told us to be gentle so we made sure we squeezed them extra lovingly in their middles as we picked them up and gave them lots and lots of love! Plus baby Myla was not here today so I needed something to lovingly squeeze. The cats followed us around all morning and watched us craft, it was a total glitter explosion! Once we had finished painting the table and ourselves (don't judge me I said I had stopped eating the paint I did not say I had stopped covering myself in it) we washed up, enjoyed our fruit platter and played with the cats and on the playground, but not together, mum said it was not a good idea to take the kitty cat on the slide no matter how much I told her she would love it!

Next week is our last Playgroup for the year and we say a very sad farewell to our big 4 years olds who are off to Kindy next year! It is also Ben's birthday and we are finishing off the year with a party and some waterplay fun. Hope to see you there.

Ongerup Primary School - What are we up to now!

Greetings!

Well our School Student Council Elections have been done and dusted! The results will become public on Monday 12th December at our annual Concert and Awards Night. As previously stated this is one evening not to miss. If you have any connection with the school or you are just interested in a good night out come and see the Wonderful Wizard of Oz! The evening commences at 6:30pm in the Ongerup Town Hall.

Next week's events:

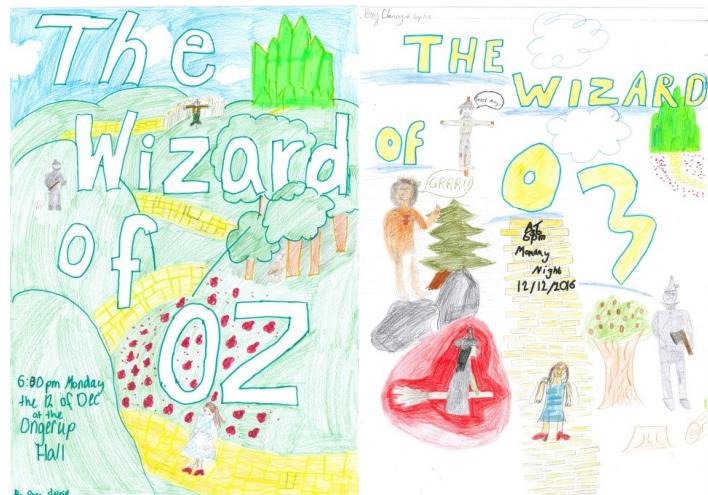

Tuesday - the school is off to Gnowangerup to cool down by the pool.

Thursday - we have a shared lunch for families with children at school and student reports will be issued at 2:55pm.

Parents one huge request please! Since I have arrived at school I have been inviting you all to give me feedback about the school good, bad and ugly. Please get on board and be listened to by completing the Parents Annual School Survey. We would like a 100% return. That is, at least one parent or carer for every child within the school to have completed a survey. The link for this survey is: <https://www.schoolsurvey.edu.au/s/ongerup2016parent> Simply, copy this link into your browser and complete the survey.

Have a wonderful Christmas all!
