Community Notices

Thank you to Nigel and Katrina for organising a wonderful community get together on Carpenter Street last Saturday night. Grandparents, Mums and Dads, children and community members all enjoyed the big cosy fire and delicious food cooked by Nigel and Katrina and served beautifully by Katrina off the back of Nigel's ute. The children all had a fun time running around together, toasting marshmallows etc while the adults enjoyed good company and easy listening music. A great night for all concerned.

JULY BOOK CLUB REPORT.

When editor Susan Ryeland is given the tattered manuscript of Alan Conway's latest novel, she has little idea it will change her life. She's worked with the revered crime writer for years and his detective, Atticus Pund, is renowned for solving crimes in the sleepy English villages of the 1950s. As Susan knows only too well, vintage crime sells handsomely. It's just a shame that it means dealing with an author like Alan Conway...

But Conway's latest tale of murder at Pye Hall is not quite what it seems. Yes, there are dead bodies and a host of intriguing suspects, but hidden in the pages of the manuscript there lies another story: a tale written between the very words on the page, telling of real-life jealousy, greed, ruthless ambition and murder.

From Sunday Times bestseller Anthony Horowitz comes Magpie Murders, his deliciously dark take on the vintage crime novel, brought bang-up-to-date with a fiendish modern twist.

July's choice was Judy Majors so on Monday night seven of us made our way to her place on Pinnacle Road dodging roos.

I think we spent the first half an hour catching up on what everyone had been doing since our last meeting. Then Marnie read the report from her Book Club which set us to discussing this again. We finally made our way to the current read.

All but two very busy people had read the book. We all agreed that it was an excellent who dunn it. We loved the characters and the plot and felt it was very well done. We liked how it wove two stories together sort of running parallel. I personally really liked how when the heroine got hurt she didn't bounce back all robust and perfect again, she retained her injuries and was unable to maintain her position and had to change her life.

Overall this book rated mostly 9s and 10s. A great choice Judy. Thank you for a lovely night.

Next month's choice is Brooke's and will be held at the usual date of August 14th at her house.

Ongerup Golf Club gets $500 boost

The golfing community in the Great Southern Region is celebrating following a $500 donation from the Crop Science division of Bayer and Primaries Ongerup Pty Ltd, to the Ongerup Golf Club through the iGiveLocal Community Support Program. Bayer representative, Glen Bergersen and Mick Creagh of Primaries, presented the cheque to grateful Tom Hart who was thrilled to receive the donation on behalf of the Golf Club.

ONGERUP VS BORDEN

Sherlock Holmes and Dr. Watson go on a camping trip. After a good dinner, they retire for the night, and go to sleep. Some hours later, Holmes wakes up and nudges his faithful friend. "Watson, look up at the sky and tell me what you see." "I see millions and millions of stars, Holmes" exclaims Watson.

"And what do you deduce from that?"

Watson ponders for a minute.

"Well, astronomically, it tells me that there are millions of galaxies and potentially billions of planets. Astrologically, I observe that Saturn is in Leo. Horologically, I deduce that the time is approximately a quarter past three. Meteorologically, I suspect that we will have a beautiful day tomorrow. Theologically, I can see that God is all powerful, and that we are a small and insignificant part of the universe. What does it tell you, Holmes?"

Holmes replies: "Watson, somebody stole our tent."
