Yongergnow AUSTRALIAN MALLEEFOWL CENTRE

Ongerup's Centre for Community, Culture and Conservation

Call for Board Members

Do you have a passion for the conservation of our unique Mallee bush and its inhabitants, particularly the endangered Malleefowl?

Yongergnow Australian Malleefowl Centre is inviting you to submit an expression of interest to join its Board of Management.

Ongerup's Yongergnow Centre has been open to the public since 2007. Yongergnow focuses on the conservation of the magnificent Malleefowl and its habitat, mainly by education and awareness-raising.

Captive-raising of Malleefowl has been added to this scope, and in 2015/16 our birds bred for the very first time. Since 2010, Yongergnow has released over 10 birds back into the wild.

Yongergnow is planning to take on more on-ground conservation work such as monitoring bird populations in the North Ongerup Malleefowl Corridor, fauna surveys, and Malleefowl mound monitoring.

Other plans include conducting tours, diversifying the scope of animals within the Yongergnow Sanctuary and raising Yongergnow's profile as one of the chief Malleefowl conservation organisations in the south of our state.

We encourage anyone interested in joining our organisation to apply for a position on the Board of Management. For further information please contact Centre Manager Rebecca Brady on 08 9828 2325 or visitor@yongergnow.com.au or our Chairman Ken Pech on 0427 171 904.

We look forward to hearing from you!

BOOK CLUB REPORT

Maybe it was a grandparent, or a teacher or a colleague. Someone older, patient and wise, who understood you when you were young and searching, and gave you sound advice to help you make your way through it. For Mitch Albom, that person was Morrie Schwartz, his college professor from nearly 20 years ago. Maybe, like Mitch, you lost track of this mentor as you made your way, and the insights faded. Wouldn't you like to see that person again, ask the bigger questions that still haunt you? Mitch Albom had that second chance. He rediscovered Morrie in the last months of the older man's life.

Knowing Morrie was dying of ALS - or motor neurone disease - Mitch visited Morrie in his study every Tuesday, just as they used to back in college. Their rekindled relationship turned into one final "class": lessons in how to live. This is a chronicle of their time together, through which Mitch shares Morrie's lasting gift with the world.

October's choice was Brodie's so on Monday night 10 of us made our way safely, negotiating the mounds on the drive, which seem to be a Baum thing.

This book evoked a lot of discussion, although we seem to have lost the art of one person at a time reviewing the book. We tend to butt in and I think some people fail to finish what they started out to say and I think this is a shame.

I think all of us had read the book and found it an easy read, a couple of us were reading it for the second time. Some of us found it a little over the top but overall we felt it was mostly common sense with one phrase standing out, when you are with people be present, give them your whole attention. We thought that this was lacking today. The lowest score was 6.

We then had a tour of the nursery which was just lovely

Thank you Brodie for the supper and a lovely night. Next month the book club will meet at Sandy's on November 13th.

Lilac Girls by Martha Hall Kelly

Inspired by the life of a real World War II heroine, this debut novel reveals a story of love, redemption, and secrets that were hidden for decades. New York socialite Caroline Ferriday has her hands full with her post at the French consulate and a new love on the horizon. But Caroline's world is forever changed when Hitler's army invades Poland in September 1939.

Into the Water by Paula Hawkins (audio book)

From a writer proven to have a masterful touch when it comes to atmospheric dread, this is a suspenseful story of two sisters and the deceptiveness of human emotion and memory. Hawkins' prose manages to put a fresh spin on an age-old story of family secrets and their devastating effects. The most hotly anticipated novel of the year, from the author of the best-selling novel The Girl on the Train.

Seven Days in May
by Kim Izzo

'As the First World War rages in continental Europe, two New Yorkheiresses, Sydney and Brooke Sinclair, are due to set sail for England. Brooke is engaged to marry impoverished aristocrat Edward Thorpe-Tracey, the future Lord Northbrook, in the wedding of the social calendar. Sydney has other adventures in mind: she is drawn to the burgeoning suffragette movement, which is a constant source of embarrassment to her proper sister. As international tempers flare, the German embassy releases a warning that any ships making the Atlantic crossing are at risk. Undaunted, Sydney and Brooke board the Lusitania for the seven-day voyage with Edward, not knowing that disaster lies ahead.'
