SEPTEMBER 2017 BOOK CLUB REVIEW

THE TRIP OF A LIFE TIME BY MONICA MCINERNEY

At the age of 85, Lola Quinlan is going home, travelling to Ireland for the first time since she immigrated to Australia as a twenty-year-old. What – and who – will be waiting for her there, alongside her memories? Meanwhile, back home in the Clare Valley, the arrival of a TV company filming a murder mystery set in the wine-making world has sent the locals into a spin. Who is the mystery scriptwriter? And how did he or she find out all their secrets? The highly anticipated new blockbuster novel from the beloved author of The Alphabet Sisters and Lola's Secret, this is a rich and highly entertaining story about family, love, lies and memories, and the true meaning of 'home'.

September was supposed to be Sandy's choice but she got confused and thought she had swapped months but sadly it was only a thought. Then Leanne got excited and confused and thought it was her turn and as she was in Perth bought some books. So it turned out well in the end. Thank you Leanne for saving our bacon. Monday night saw us all off to Leanne's where the most delicious supper was awaiting us, thanks Leanne the food was lovely. We also welcome a new member Melissa Hawkins who I think enjoyed the experience. We had a couple of apologies. After tasting all the delights we got down to the business of the night. Sadly the book was very hard to get into and once you did you didn't find it very riveting or couldn't put it down material so most of us did and left it down. Personally I had three attempts to start and as the last weekend loomed, made myself with aid of a couple of stiff drinks read it but it did take some effort. Of the few who had read it, Roz enjoyed it. After much discussion we thought it was because it was just life and I think most of us read to escape so it was tedious. Judy who hadn't read this book realized she had read Lola's Secret which was one before this.

It was well written very much in Monica McInerney's style and if you enjoy her it would be fine. The book was very low scoring mostly 4-6. Thank you Leanne for a great night I think we all enjoyed the catch up. Next Month is Brodie's Choice so we will be off to there the 2nd Monday in October.
