Halloween

You may have noticed some extremely scary witches and monsters getting around Ongerup last night. They were celebrating Halloween. Although it is thought to be an American tradition Halloween originated in Ireland. This day marked the end of summer and the beginning of winter a time of year often associated with death. Celts believed that on the night before New Year the boundary between the worlds of the living and the dead became blurred., and the ghosts of the dead returned to earth.

To celebrate this event the Druids built huge bonfires and food and animals were sacrificed to the Celtic gods. Druids wore costumes of animal heads and skins. Wearing disguises stopped the dead from recognising the living and wanting to stay in the human world. Thus the tradition of costumes was begun. When America and Australia were flooded with migrants following the potato famine in Ireland they brought with them the traditions of Halloween. The practice of trick or treating came from the early tradition of poor citizens going around to beg for food on Halloween , families would give them pastries called soul cakes in exchange for them praying for their dead.

MEDIA RELEASE

Investing in our future by considering the "Whole Picture"

23 October, 2018

GNOWANGERUP 360: WHO, WHAT AND WHY?

FOR the past 12 months a group of committed locals have been meeting to discuss and discover ways we can invigorate our town and nurture business opportunities within Gnowangerup; to encourage vibrancy and offer that 'kick start' we have been missing for some time. Why? Because as a community we have endured the closure of too many great businesses and we felt we could do something.

With both legal and financial advice from local consultants, it was decided the best structure for our vision was to form a cooperative which (finally) happened last month. Why a Cooperative? It gives us the best structure to legally invest, involve as many community members as interested, and importantly offer the flexibility to respond to our community needs. Simply put, it will enable us to invest in our community's future by considering the whole picture.

So like all cooperatives, we need support. We need you to care too.

Becoming a shareholder of GNP 360 Cooperative will give you a vote, a voice and an opportunity to be involved in the excitement. Whether you can manage a single share or several, every dollar will be appreciated by our entire community (now and future). We expect that in the initial founding stages there wouldn't be a return on investment, but as we become more established we envisage this will change and shareholders can expect to earn dividends. Once we are fully established, projects in the future may take the form of facilitating 'trial' businesses to get a kick-start, assisting with the required equipment to start a business, or acquiring further commercial property. We like to see it as local businesses, supporting local people, supporting local businesses.

Since our first meeting in December 2017, we have been compiling ideas about where to start. Not an easyfeat with excited inaugural directors (from all aspects of the community) bursting at the seams with ideas. But there was a unanimous agreement; we need grocery supplies to remain in Gnowangerup. Without this, shopping out of town would become a necessity. Therefore our inaugural project was born; the intention to secure the long-term shopping convenience by procuring a building that will serve as a modern and attractive "shopping hub" for a variety of potential industries in the main street.

To hear all about this project and how you can be involved, we are asking for every member of our community to join us at the launch on November 22nd 7 pm, at the Town Hall. We are ecstatic to have Peter Kenyon—social entrepreneur, author, economist, and 2017 Senior Australian of the year, guest speak on success stories from across Australia, birthed from situations like ours. The wonderful RRT will be providing dinner from 6pm for a gold coin donation with all proceeds going to the Gnowangerup St John Ambulance.

Let's get excited Gnowangerup and get involved, great things are yet to come. We look forward to seeing you at the launch.

SATURDAY 10TH & SUNDAY 11TH
NOVEMBER 2018

YONGERGNOW MALLEEFOWL CENTRE,
JAEKEL ST, ONGERUP

Malleefowl Monitor Training

Monitoring Malleefowl will not in itself save them, but it is an extremely important tool in understanding how the species is going. If there was a sudden crash in any population, we need to be aware of the situation ASAP. Annual monitoring is also essential if we are to understand long-term trends that may vary due to many factors including climate change.

Malleefowl exist right across Australia so we need to ensure everyone is monitoring in the same way. Over many years we have developed a method of monitoring Malleefowl that doesn't upset the birds, doesn't place more demands on the people doing the work than necessary and is scientifically robust.

We have developed a system that uses modern technology and is easy to use. Volunteers are supplied with smartphones with our own monitoring app installed.

At the training, we will show you how to use the equipment and then travel to a site where we will visit several mounds and go through the monitoring methodology.

Apart from learning how to take part in this important Citizen Science project, you will be mixing with lots of very knowledgeable Malleefowl people.

Saturday 10th
9.00 am

Yongergnow Malleefowl Centre
Jaeckel St, Ongerup.

- Will have a short introduction and inductions
- Everyone gets to play with the app on our smartphones and learn how we use them in the field
- We will use GPS to navigate to Malleefowl mounds to record the data for each round
- At the mounds we will practice the best monitoring methods and how to use the smartphones

Sunday 11th

- For those that get bitten by the monitoring bug we will be going to other sites to continue monitoring

Note that we will be walking through sometimes heavy bush. Ensure that you have good walking shoes and clothing to protect yourself from scratching and sun....sounds fun doesn't it?
