ARE YOU A WOMAN IN A FARMING ENTERPRISE ?

Are you in the paddock, in the office, in the kitchen, or the tractor? Are you keen to share and broaden your knowledge with local women? Come and be part of the Women In Farming Enterprises (WIFE) network!

WHAT IS WIFE?

The roles of women on farms are significant and varied. Professional support and training to fulfil all roles are often unavailable or attendance at events is not possible due to distance and time. This is where WIFE steps in! WIFE is about tapping into and sharing the wealth of knowledge that is your neighbour, your friend, your friend's friend or the new girl in town. If a local expert isn't available WIFE can bring one to you!

There is great benefit in discussing issues between local ladies, to help each other improve and excel in the many tasks we take on within our farming enterprises. Meetings generally take the form of organised discussions between local branch members. There are opportunities to run workshops and events with guest speakers or experts on topics of interest identified by the group. Great importance is placed on meeting the needs of members at WIFE branch meetings.

WIFE Ongerup has its meetings monthly (except over harvest) and generally coincides with the local Day Care which is held on Fridays.

For more information about what WIFE has to offer and to locate your closest branch, visit the WIFE website: www.wife.org.au/join/ or email info@wife.org.au

AGM Guest Speaker: Dr. Carl Gosper

Dr Carl Gosper has been carrying out research in the Fitzgerald River National Park in an effort to understand the susceptibility of the flora to the putative threats of drought and reduced fire-return intervals.

This research is being carried out in an attempt to manage threatening processes and to improve the recovery of Threatened Flora and Threatened Ecological Communities. Carl has specific interests in the distribution of Threatened flora, effects of fire on plant communities and vegetation dynamics. Much of his work has been conducted in the Proteaceous shrublands, mallee and eucalypt woodland vegetation.

Carl is a Senior Research Scientist in the Biodiversity and Conservation Science section of the Department of Biodiversity, Conservation and Attractions. His AGM talk is titled:

Threatened flora distribution and differential exposure and susceptibility to threats as a framework informing flora conservation in the Southwest Australian Floristic Region

He will discuss the intersection of our rich and endemic flora with a diverse suite of interacting and cumulative threats. These threats have contributed to the Southwest Australian Floristic Region having exceptionally high numbers of imperilled plant taxa. Prioritizing flora conservation actions requires an understanding of:

- the spatial distribution of Threatened flora,
- the processes that endanger them, and
- how species traits affect the sensitivity of taxa to specific threats.

These patterns and processes are underpinned by natural selection over evolutionary timescales. Threatened flora are strongly characterised by narrow range endemics which are not uniformly or randomly distributed across the southwest region. Their distribution is moulded by age and extent of soil-landscape features.
