COMMUNITY NOTICES

ONGERUP BOWLS NOTES

We Won!! Yes both the Men & Ladies won their Penants last week, both played against Jerramungup. Well done teams. This week the Ladies don't have a game but the Men are out to challenge Gnow Red. With the sun coming out now let's hope we can field a team. The week after the men will be having a harvest Bye, and hopefully will be on a header, summer should start soon surely. Most of our Ladies are playing in the Gnowangerup Ladies Classic this week on Thurs & Fri, then Robyn & Michelle will be representing Ongerup in the League Pairs on Sunday – also Ladies are off to the ILRR at Kulin next weekend the 20th -21st. (gosh it's a hard life)

BUT the big news is that the work has eventually started on our new green this week. So hopefully we'll be back playing in Ongerup soon once it has settled.

ACTIVE FARMERS FITNESS SESSIONS:

It's still on at the Ongerup Sporting Complex all through harvest 5 pm and 6:30pm Tuesdays for an hour each. Last session day in Ongerup for 2021 is 21st December. Start up in 2022 on 11th January. Enquiries to Boyd 0427 990531.

GETTING RESILIENT AT BORDEN

Pallinup North Stirlings landcare group whipped up a large crowd last Sunday at the Borden Pavilion for resilience training in a few different ways. Three brave blokes attended along with 70 plus women ..... that's the crowd number not the age of the crowd!

Stevie introduced Sabrina Hahn of WA gardening fame and talkback radio, who can deliver just about anything about soils, bugs, plants and definite no-nos for our area. She also backed up her talk with some good garden stuff for sale for many of us to take home! There was plenty of chance to ask your question at the end of her extensive talk and find out that the second try of growing that pittosporum hedge should be your last ! Bottom line was work with what soil and weather conditions you have and give a bit of love along the way in the form of compost, mulch and suitable fertilizer, to keep all available moisture where you want it.

Lunch was catered for by The Country Mixer Candice and son, with some great dishes for all tastes, and plenty of time to get another question or two into Sabrina and exchange with crowd who came from all over a wide area. The kids in the creche were let out for half time and made there presence heard at lunchtime.

Katanning Ecohouse's Ella Maesepp delivered her inspirational presentation on sustainable living. Her story of reducing the first line of packaging and throwaways to end up with not much to throw away in the end proved that it can be done. She reflected briefly on their family building a sustainably powered straw bale house and how the growing family has adapted their practices and happily live very sustainably. Ella added 'you don't have to be completely crazy to live this way and the kids will take it on when given the right example'.

Ellie Cameron, Albany phycologist, gave a rundown on aspects of mental health and some mindful and self-help ways within our rural lifestyles. She then led us through 10 minutes of sitting meditation and a grounding walk outside on the grass without shoes.

Some of the crowd went on to mingle at Stones Throw Farmhouse nearby with resilience needed for the mozzies! Well done to the organisers on an informative and inspiring day.
