A visit to Ongerup from adventurous Milly
On Wednesday Amellia Formby, aka Milly, came to Ongerup to present her Wing Threads project; Amellia is a zoologist, a book illustrator and a microlight pilot; she has been travelling around Australia to talk about shorebirds and their incredible migrations; her final goal is to follow shorebirds migrations on the East Asian-Australasian flyway on board of her microlight aircraft: destination Siberia. You can support and follow Amellia's adventures www.wingthreads.com.

1080 Poison Training

with Peter Hennig, DPIRD Biosecurity Officer

Foxes and cats are estimated to cost Australian farmers $35 million dollars annually. They also have a devastating impact on native wildlife. If you are planning to conduct a 1080 baiting program you must hold a permit to use restricted chemical product in Western Australia.

This free face-to-face session is delivered by DPIRD Biosecurity Officer Peter Hennig and meets the training requirements to apply for Registered Pesticide (RP) permits. Peter will also help you map the proposed bait areas and exclusion zones for your property. Catering sponsored by Elders.

RSVP

essential : contact Laura at laura@nspnr.com.au or 0401553285 by 28 July

For more information about the permit please visit www.agric.wa.gov.au/baits-poisons/registered-pesticide-permits
